Copyright Assignment Form

Please fill form and return signed copy to address or email address given in this form. Article can not be published without Author's singature of this Form.

Author's warranty

Name:

Address: E-mail

Author's names:

Article title:

In consideration of publication of the Article in Acta Informatica Medica I hereby warrant and consent

a.   that this Article is original work, has not been published before and is not being consider for publication elsewhere in its final form either in printed or electronic form;

b.   that I have obtained permission from copyright holders to reproduce material in the Article, and that I have acknowledged the resource;

c.   that this Article contains no violation of any existing copyright or other third party right or any material of an obscene, indecent, libelous or other unlawful nature and that to the best of my knowledge this Article does not infringe the rights of others;

d.   that I will indemnify and keep indemnified the Publisher against all claims and expenses arising from any breach of this warranty and the other warranties on my behalf in this Agreement;

e.   that in case of Article with many authors I have obtained copyright assignments from all co-authors in writing , and authorization to enter into this Agreement on their behalf and that all have read and agreed to the above warranties;

Author: Date:

Copyright assignment

From January 2015 onward, all authors of Acta Informatica Medica retain copyright. They are required to grant the Journal the right to publish their article in print and electronic versions with a clear understanding that the article was not published or archived elsewhere and it is not under consideration for publication elsewhere.

Authors who publish in Acta Informatica Medica should accept the following terms and conditions:

1.   Authors retain copyright and grant Acta Informatica Medica the exclusive license and right of first publication with the work simultaneously licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial License (http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/4.0/), which allows the work to be freely used, distributed, and built upon for non-commercial reasons, as long as proper attribution to the work's authorship and initial publication in Acta Informatica Medica is given.

2.   Authors are permitted to freely distribute the Journal's published version of the work (e.g., post it to any institutional repository, social networking platform, or publish it in any other media), with a correct reference to its initial publication in the Journal.

3.   All manuscripts submitted to Acta Informatica Medica are assumed to be submitted under the Gold Open Access publishing model. The manuscripts pass in-house and external peer review. When a manuscript is accepted for publication the corresponding author is contacted with an invoice for payment of 300 Euro editing and publishing fee. The editing and publishing fees are required for substantive editing, facts and references validations, copy editing, and publishing online and in print by editorial staff of the Journal. No additional fees, other than stated above, are required. The Journals accepts donations from sponsors to create a sum for payment reductions or waivers for authors unable to cover editing and publishing fees (a justification of the inability to pay should be provided). Published papers are posted on the Journal website for free downloads by readers. Any reproduction is possible with a permission of the authors who retain copyright under the following license agreement: http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/4.0/. Publication fees must be paid via bank transfer. Please use information provided on following link to make a payment: http://www.actainformmed.org/publishing-fees/.

Author: Co-author1.   Co-author 2.

Co-author 3.   Co-author 4.   Co-author 5.